2010 IARU GLOBAL SUMMER PROGRAM – DRAFT COURSE PROFILE

Accommodation description
Students will live on the Yale campus in the heart of downtown New Haven. Students can check into housing on Sunday, 27 June. The check out date is Friday, 30 July. Yale dormitories, called residential colleges, are the foundation of Yale's social and intellectual structure. Only students in residence have access to these summer facilities and activities. Student rooms are furnished with a twin bed, mattress, pillow, blanket, dresser, desk, desk lamp, and chair. Students should bring their own sheets (twin, extra-long) and towels. Household items are available for purchase at the Yale Bookstore and other local stores. Meals, featuring a wide variety of foods, are served during three meal periods per day in the college dining halls. If a student has special dietary needs, these should be specified on the application form; arrangements can then be made by the student directly with Dining Services. Meal service begins with dinner on the evening of housing check-in (Sunday 27 June) and concludes with lunch on the afternoon of the last day of classes (Friday 30 July). Each suite is equipped with jacks for telephone and Ethernet service. Students must provide their own telephones and will need a calling card to make long distance calls. Computer clusters with printers are available in the residential colleges and libraries; students may also bring their own computers and Ethernet cable. The Summer Master, Assistant Masters and Yale students who serve as residential counselors will be available to make sure that your stay in New Haven is productive and pleasant. The counselors help summer students adjust to life at Yale and in the New Haven area, and they coordinate a wide range of cultural and recreational activities, including supervised outings and field trips. Some activities have a small additional fee.
